Biography

When I was in college, I participated in a club and had the opportunity to go to indigenous communities to exchange and learn with the communities. That's when I got to know indigenous cultures. However, I found that the wonderful indigenous cultures were sometimes not compatible with Taiwan's legal system and some practices were even regarded as crimes. In order to find answers, I joined the Legal Center of Indigenous Peoples. In participating in the advocacy and litigation of indigenous peoples' legal issues, I deeply feel that inappropriate laws, discrimination and conflicts often stem from a lack of understanding of indigenous peoples' cultures. Therefore, I hope that I can promote laws and policies that provide more comprehensive protection of indigenous peoples' human rights, and facilitate social dialogue, and I look forward to the day when we can all be proud of our own ethnic groups!
